Proven programming for college & career readiness

“If there is an organization that is worthy of support - spreading the word as well as financial support - this is it! The types of skills the WASC programming presents, encompasses all aspects of life from self enhancement to careers, character building, academics, community service, relationship skills and more. These are skills needed by all of our students especially those who desire to be in leadership positions of any kind. It is a fantastic educational tool!”

Exceptional student engagement and leadership is a necessary factor for creating the positive school cultures that take student learning, growth and success to the next level. It is also the key ingredient for college and career readiness. As a former principal, superintendent, and parent of student participants, I can testify to the transformative impact of the WASC and can think of no better program for building such capacity. Therefore, I strongly encourage you to investigate how WASC programs can help your school raise the life trajectory for students in your school and community.
